Famous people work in shops for a day

Boy George usually stays in bed on Saturdays, but last week he sold clothes in a shop. Actor Jeremy Irons sold flowers. And who did this man buy his knives and forks from? Uri Geller? It was all right.

Last Saturday, shoppers in Covent Garden in London had an unusual day. For 12 hours over 300 stars from television, pop music, sport and the cinema worked in shops, pubs, cafes and restaurants in Covent Garden. More than 100,000 customers came to see them.

Actress Kelly Hunter organized everything. The idea was simple. People came to see the stars, they bought things and the shop owners gave 5 per cent of the money to charity. But the stars didn't only sell things. They signed thousands of autographs and gave kisses to their fans. (A kiss from B George cost £ 5). In other shops, customers met boxer Frank Bruno, the Bishop of California, TV cook Delia Smith and many others.

One hundred policemen were there, but there was no trouble. It was a good day for everyone. Fans got autographs and kisses from their favourite stars, the shops got a lot of new customers and at the end of the day more than £ 100,000 went to charity.

Время выполнения: 20 минут. Максимальное количество баллов: 15

Прочитайте текст. Заполните пропуски в предложениях словами в таблице, употребив их в правильной грамматической форме. Четыре слова в таблице лишние.

-girl twenty think to didn't do be walk they
-year of buy the why to buy be a what go

A young man (1) was in love with a beautiful girl.

One day when they were (2) walking in the park near the (3) girl's house, she said to him, "Tomorrow is my birthday, will you come to have dinner with me?" "Of course," said the young man, "and I'll send you red roses, one rose for each (4) year of your life."

The same evening the young man (5) went to a florist's. As the girl would be twenty years old, he paid for (6) twenty roses and asked the florist to send (7) them to the girl the next day. He left her address and a letter full (8) of love.

The florist knew the young man well because he often (9) sold flowers in his shop. The florist thought, "(10) The young man is a good customer, my price for the roses (11) is too high, I'll send thirty roses instead of twenty." And he (12) was doing so. In the afternoon when the young man came (13) to see his girlfriend, she (14) didn't want to speak to him. He was very unhappy and went back home. But he never knew (15) why she was so angry with him.

PART 4. WRITING

Hi Liza!

Thanks for your letter. How are you and your family?

Now I'm having exciting trip in the mountains, Cyprus. I took with me sleeping bag, torch, sun cream, map, compass, sunglasses and phone. The weather is sunny and ^{boiling} hot. It's good for me and my friends. Today we want to go on a top of mountain Trodos. It will be not easy, but I think I will do it. Of course I will take a photo and will send it to your email!

Do you want to have exciting trip in the mountains?
What the weather like in the United States?
Do you like this weather in your town or not?

x

write back soon,
with love,
Nastya.
